

Creativity

"We have to realize that a creative being lives within ourselves, whether we like it or not, and that we must get out of its way, for it will give us no peace until we do."

- Mary Richards

Testimonial

"Gordon Wood is a gifted artist with a unique style of expressing his personal vision. He demonstrates great respect for the emerging vision of his students, as well. He has encouraged me to silence my harsh inner critic, thereby gaining more freedom to experiment. He has patiently reinforced my trust in the ongoing artistic process. Most importantly, perhaps, he has helped me expand my idea of what is possible for me as a painter and validated my efforts toward realizing those possibilities."

Gordon Wood Art & Design

Evo: Evolution

- A gradual process in which something changes the abstract into a different and more complex form.
- The process of developing

Evolve

- To develop or achieve gradually.
- To undergo gradual change.

Evoke/Evocative

- To re-create, especially by means of imagination.
- To summon or call forth.

Evocation

Re-creation through the power of memory and imagination.

Jen: Generative

Generative – Relating to the production of young, birthing.

Involving the ability to produce, to originate in activity and results.

Generous

- Liberal in giving and sharing.
- Marked by abundance.
- Possessing a rich bouquet and flavor.
- Characterized by nobility and forbearance in thought and/or behavior, magnanimous.

Jou: Journey

- A trip or expedition from one place to another.
- A gradual passing from one state to another regarded as more advanced, for example, from innocence to mature awareness. To travel to a place or over a particular distance.

INTENTION:

Our purpose is to have FUN as we explore your creative potential.

We will: Discover how to explore without being self-conscious. Cultivate reciprocity, cognition, intuition, and imagination, with dynamic and authentic techniques. Commence travel over the paths leading to mastery of the tools of artistic agency. Generate individual and collective wonder through artwork. Capturing essence and knowledge while expanding our search for meaning.

*You choose the medium or media.

Understanding how a process of allowing individuals openly to insert new ideas, procedures, materials, and products joined with implementation into an organization's flow of functioning, is imperative for healthy and successful businesses. EvoGenJou offers facilitation of in-house and retreat sessions that are appropriate for all groups and diverse genres.

Focus and fees will be based on each group's nature and objectives.

A Service Agreement will be negotiated to accommodate your organization's objectives.

Process

Within agreed to time frames, we explore your access to awareness and to knowledgeable transformation through creative endeavors. We will develop dedication to open and focused reciprocity that taps into cognition, intuition, and collective consciousness. We delve below surfaces into an awareness of our senses that is accessible to us, while emphasizing the timeless and universal qualities inherent in this open exploration. We focus on the process and work itself rather than only the results. Together we direct your exploration through disciplined guidance encompassing the nature of conception and metaphor integrated with a present-in-the-moment consciousness. I emphasize imagination fused with the broad dimensions of reality infused with techniques that lead us to create art of enduring and endearing value.
